

Nov. 3

University of Verona, Department of Human Sciences

AULA SEMINARI
SECONDO PIANO PALAZZO ZORZI
Lungadige Porta Vittoria 17

h 10.30 – 13

Chair: Olivia Guaraldo
University of Verona

MARIANO CROCE

Sapienza – University of Rome

Does critique need meanings? When imaginings speak for themselves

BOB BRECHER

University of Brighton

The language of neoliberalism and what to do about it

h. 14.30 – 18.30

Chair: Lorenzo Bernini, University of Verona

ANNALISA CERON

University of Milan

Rethinking friendship and politics: two models of political friendship

CLARE WOODFORD

University of Brighton

Capacity for change: Derrida, melancholy and post redemption politics

MATTEO BORTOLINI

University of Padua

Found in Translation: Jürgen Habermas, Anthropotechnics, And Postsecularism

The Hannah Arendt Center
for Political Studies
University of Verona

RE-IMAGINING THE POLITICAL

A RESEARCH SEMINAR
VERONA, 3-4 NOVEMBER 2016

Nov. 4

SALA RIUNIONI SR2
PIANO TERRA PALAZZO DI LETTERE
Via S. Francesco 22

Chair: Carlotta Cossutta, University of Eastern Piedmont, Vercelli
h. 10.30 – 13

OLIVIA GUARALDO

University of Verona

On public happiness

MARK DEVENNEY

University of Brighton

'Why Democracy is always Improper': Thinking the Political after Ranciere, Butler and Laclau

Discussants

ADRIANA CAVARERO, University of Verona

LORENZO BERNINI, University of Verona

CARLOTTA COSSUTTA, University of Eastern
Piedmont, Vercelli

ARIANNA MAINARDI, University of Verona

VALERIA MERCANDINO, University of Verona

VALERIA VENDITTI, Sapienza - University of Rome

ILARIA POSSENTI, University of Verona

CAPPE
Centre for Applied Philosophy, Politics and Ethics
University of Brighton